

Information Needed to Cite the Item

Author(s):

Document Title: (article, web page, chapter, entry...)

Source Title: (book, journal, magazine, website...)

Publisher (host / sponsor if website):

Publisher Location / Website URL:

Publication Date: _____

Access Date (website): _____

What best describes this information:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> formal report of a study | <input type="checkbox"/> news / feature by interested amateur |
| <input type="checkbox"/> fact sheet / data / statistics | <input type="checkbox"/> anecdote / personal experience |
| <input type="checkbox"/> news / feature article by journalist | <input type="checkbox"/> fiction |
| <input type="checkbox"/> opinion piece: expert? journalist? amateur? | <input type="checkbox"/> blather |
| <input type="checkbox"/> other: | |

Purpose: Inform Persuade Satirize Amuse Sell Rant
 Other:

Documentation: sources cited formally sources mentioned in text none
What types of sources are given for facts and assertions (journals, magazines, interviews...)?

Author: Academic credentials: _____ Affiliation(s): _____
and/or other evidence of expertise:

Publisher/Host: _____ or _____ self-published
 university press professional society non-profit organization
 government agency commercial publisher other corporation/business

What is its mission?

Are there ads attached to the information? none a few many

Date: Is the information... still relevant outdated can't tell

The Document Itself:

Is there a stated or apparent bias? What?

How are the writing, grammar and spelling? Excellent So-so Awful

Summary: Is this an acceptable information source for an academic research paper? Why or why not?

Information Needed to Cite the Item

Author(s):

Document Title: (article, web page, chapter, entry...)

Source Title: (book, journal, magazine, website...)

Publisher (host / sponsor if website):

Publisher Location / Website URL:

Publication Date: _____

Access Date (website): _____

What best describes this information:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> formal report of a study | <input type="checkbox"/> news / feature by interested amateur |
| <input type="checkbox"/> fact sheet / data / statistics | <input type="checkbox"/> anecdote / personal experience |
| <input type="checkbox"/> news / feature article by journalist | <input type="checkbox"/> fiction |
| <input type="checkbox"/> opinion piece: expert? journalist? amateur? | <input type="checkbox"/> blather |
| <input type="checkbox"/> other: | |

Purpose: Inform Persuade Satirize Amuse Sell Rant
 Other:

Documentation: sources cited formally sources mentioned in text none
What types of sources are given for facts and assertions (journals, magazines, interviews...)?

Author: Academic credentials: _____ Affiliation(s): _____
and/or other evidence of expertise:

Publisher/Host: _____ or _____ self-published
 university press professional society non-profit organization
 government agency commercial publisher other corporation/business

What is its mission?

Are there ads attached to the information? none a few many

Date: Is the information... still relevant outdated can't tell

The Document Itself:

Is there a stated or apparent bias? What?

How are the writing, grammar and spelling? Excellent So-so Awful

Summary: Is this an acceptable information source for an academic research paper? Why or why not?